JUDGE:

RE: Speaking Invitation
Delaware State Bar Association Law Day
Hotel DuPont
Wilmington, Delaware
29 April 1988

On behalf of the Delaware Bar Association, Kent A. Jordan, has invited you to be the guest speaker at the Delaware State Bar Association's Law Day luncheon on Friday, 29 April in Wilmington, Delaware. According to Mr. Kent this is the second time the Bar Association has invited you to speak at an event. Although our records do not show other invitations from the Delaware Bar Association, Mr. Kent mentions a previous invitation in his letter. Since you are already committed for that date to speak at the Law Day in St. Louis, I have attached a letter of regret.

Dear Mr. Jordan:

Thank you for your kind invitation to address the Delaware Bar Association Law Day luncheon on April 29th. Unfortunately, I will not be able to speak to the group on that date because I have another commitment. It was good of you to ask me again, and I appreciate your favorable comments concerning my years of public service.

Best wishes for a successful program. Please give my regards to your members.

Sincerely yours,

As William H. Webster

The Honorable William H. Webster

Dear Judge Webster:

By Presidential Proclamation and a Joint Resolution of Congress, May first of each year is celebrated as Law Day U.S.A., a time for Americans to reflect on their liberties and rededicate themselves to the ideals of equality and justice under law.

In the State of Delaware, Law Day is highlighted by the annual Bar Association luncheon and awards ceremony. The Bar Association endeavors each year to bring to the State an individual of importance in the preservation of liberty to make some remarks at the law day luncheon. You may recall that last year we sought your attendance at the luncheon, but you were unable to come. On the hope that we may have better fortune this year, I write on behalf of the Delaware State Bar Association to invite you to make the annual Law Day address to the Association and its guests and honorees on Friday, April 29, at the Hotel DuPont in Wilmington, Delaware.

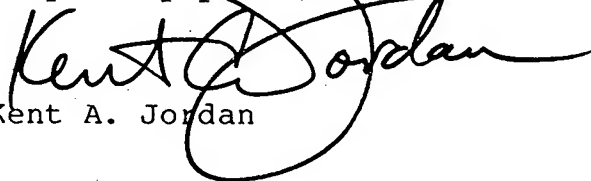

I have read about and been told by my father, Amos (Joe) Jordan of the Center for Strategic and International Studies, of your impressive history of public service. You have the unique perspective of having seen the American system of justice operate at both the investigative and judicial levels and of seeing American legal values affect both the national and international arenas. If you would be willing and able to share some of your insights with us, the membership of the Bar would be truly grateful. Should you accept our offer, we will, of course, pay the expenses incurred in your traveling to and from Wilmington and, if you wish, provide a room at the Hotel DuPont for your convenience before and after the luncheon.

I sincerely hope your busy schedule will allow you to come to Wilmington on May first. I look forward to hearing from you.

Very truly yours,

Kent A. Jordan
